

PIZZA TALKS

Winter

2020

Menu

Wednesdays | 12pm
Fowler Museum A222

January 8th

The Impact of Lidar on Archaeological Research at the Ancient Maya City of Caracol, Belize

Dr. Arlen F. Chase, Visiting Professor, Department of Anthropology, Pomona College

January 15th

Historical Preservation & Caltrans Archaeology

George D. Everson, Adjunct Professor, Department of Anthropology, Mt. San Jacinto College

January 22nd

Contextualizing Roman Republican Sacrifice

Dr. Claudia Moser, Associate Professor, Department of History of Art & Architecture, UCSB

January 29th

Initial Conditions for Biocultural Evolution in China: Understanding the Relationship between Genetic Selection and Archaeological Remains

Dr. Ryan Nichols, Associate Professor, Department of Philosophy, Cal State Fullerton

February 5th

Lost Narratives: New Directions in the Post-1850 Historical Archaeology of Southern California

Dr. James E. Snead, Professor, Department of Anthropology, Cal State Northridge

February 12th

Migrations, Marginality, and Maritime Landscapes: A New World Paleocoastal Occupation

Dr. Amy E. Gusick, Associate Curator, National History Museum of Los Angeles County

February 19th

Three Thousand Years of the Cultural and Natural Legacy in the Mirador Basin, Guatemala

Dr. Richard D. Hansen, Adjunct Professor, Department of Anthropology, University of Utah

February 26th

TBA

March 4th

TBA

Dr. Caroline Sauvage, Associate Professor, Department of Classics and Archaeology, Loyola Marymount University

March 11th

Hostile Terrain 94: A Global Exhibition on Migrant Death

Dr. Jason De León, Professor, Department of Anthropology, UCLA; Austin Shipman, Program Manager for the Undocumented Migration Project; and Gabe Canter and Nicole Smith, Exhibition Coordinators for Hostile Terrain 94